Missourians for John Brunner
2016 Internship Program

Missourians for John Brunner is seeking ambitious, high-energy, self-motivated college and graduate students to assist for 2016 internships at its campaign headquarters in St. Louis, MO. Interns will be assigned to various divisions within the campaign ranging from fundraising, political operations, general campaign operations, press/communications, research, social media, and policy.

The internship will be structured so the student learns the operations of a political campaign and will provide students with an educational experience in democracy. Positions will also provide interns with tremendous networking opportunities and the ability to develop skills and opportunities for future employment.

Responsibilities of selected interns will include, but won’t be limited to: drafting correspondences, assist staff with social media integration and development, draft press releases, issue research, fundraising, manage web tracking and analytics, and representing the candidate at various political functions.

Applicants must have strong written and verbal communications skills and should be familiar with Microsoft Office and web research. Past political experience is not necessary, however, applicants should be Republican and familiar with Missouri’s political structure. All internships are unpaid positions. Hours for internships are flexible, dependent on student class schedules. Political Science, English, Economics, Business, and Pre-Law students are highly encouraged to apply.

Interested individuals should apply as soon as possible. Applicants should submit a resume and two references, and the following application, to Sam Saffa at sam@johnforgovernor.com. Please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any questions.
