2015-2016 Internship Program

Are you looking for an opportunity to break into politics?

Who are we looking for?
- Proven leaders who are committed to making a difference and helping chart the course for Missouri’s future
- Smart, energetic, and fun people who are interested in gaining experience and involvement in politics
- Ambitious, energetic, and self-motivated students in high school, college, or recent college graduates

What are the benefits of the Greitens for Missouri Internship Program?
- An unprecedented opportunity to work day to day with top political operatives
- Receive first hand experience with how professional campaigns are run & function
- The opportunity to network with Missouri and national leaders
- Opportunities to work with a top-tier candidate & surrogates
- Internships for school credit may be accommodated

The internship will be structured so the student learns the operations of a political campaign and works alongside the campaign staff. Positions will also provide interns with tremendous networking opportunities and the ability to develop skills and opportunities for future employment.

Responsibilities of selected interns will include, but are not limited to: drafting correspondences, assisting staff with social media integration and development, drafting press releases, issue research, fundraising, helping manage web tracking and analytics, and assisting in a variety of projects related to campaign strategy.

Applicants must have strong written and verbal communications skills and should be familiar with Microsoft Office and web research. Past political experience is not necessary. However, applicants should be Republican and familiar with Missouri’s political structure. All internships are unpaid positions.

Hours for internships are flexible, dependent on student class schedules. We offer internships in all regions of Missouri as well as the campaign headquarters office in St. Louis. Applications are accepted on a rolling basis until positions are filled.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, the attached application, and a resume. Please email the application materials to lindsey@greitensformissouri.com.
