Poverty Intern Sought: The Jewish Community Relations Council of St. Louis (JCRC), the public policy arm of the organized Jewish community in the region, is seeking an intern for the Fall 2015 semester available to work on poverty issues. JCRC coordinates the Community Against Poverty (CAP) coalition, a broad based coalition of faith-based and other community groups dedicated to reducing poverty through service, education and advocacy.

The Poverty Intern will assist with several JCRC and CAP initiatives throughout the semester. This may include helping to plan the annual Jewish and Muslim Day of Community Service, researching potential agencies to receive assistance from the Jewish Fund for Human Needs, and helping to coordinate events for Hunger Awareness Week. A commitment of a minimum of 6 hours a week is suggested. This is an unpaid position.

Interested candidates should forward a resume, list of at least two references and statement of interest. Application deadline is September 10, 2015. Submit application to Gail Wechsler, Director of Domestic Issues/Social Justice at the JCRC of St. Louis. Please submit application electronically to gwechsler@jcrcstl.org

Requirements:

1. Must be a current undergraduate.

2. A background and interest in anti-poverty work is preferred and highly recommended
