

General News and Announcements

The 2011 MIDTESOL Conference, hosted by SLU’s EAP program, took place on our campus Oct. 21-22.

Over 300 people attended, including representatives of 13 publishers. There were 8 states represented and 6 countries. The topics of the 60 sessions included intercultural communication and rhetoric; mixed expectations of students and teachers, new perspectives into teaching vocabulary, and incorporating all kinds of content into the skill classes.

A special thanks goes out to Mr. Dan Nickolai, an invaluable part of the team before and during the event, who helped with tech support in the Busch Student Center and Des Peres Hall.

At the MIDTESOL Conference: Dr. Ulla Connor, Director of the Indiana Center for Intercultural Communication, Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis; Dr. Jun Liu, Associate Provost for International Initiatives at Georgia State University; Dr. Diana Pascoe-Chávez and Dr. Kara McBride, both of Saint Louis University.
