Kudos

Dr. Kara McBride presented a paper, "Do the folks believe that they can speak their way into interculturality?" at the Perspectives on Interculturality Conference put on by the Center for Intercultural Studies at Saint Louis University (Feb. 28-March 1, 2013).

Dr. Evelyn Meyer has published an article, "Visual and Narrative Distortion of Nordic and German Source Materials in Edel's Adaptation of the Nibelungenlied "Die Nibelungen-Der Fluch des Drachens" / "Dark Kingdom-The Dragon King" (2004)"

Dr. Jean-Louis Pautrot was invited to give a presentation on writer Pascal Quignard by the Cercle de lecture of the Alliance Française of Saint Louis, on Feb 28, 2013. Dr. Pautrot's presentation was followed by a group discussion of Quignard's novel Villa Amalia (2006).

Two of our Russian majors, Daniel Pike and Michael Meyer, were selected for the program Biology and Russian: A Summer Science and Language Program for Undergraduates at Moscow State University. Only six students among undergraduates all over the country were chosen for this honor, sponsored by the George Washington University School of Medicine and Allied Health. They will spend almost three weeks in Moscow, conducting research with Russian scholars at Moscow State University.
