To listen or monitor a student's activity, click once on the Listen button located in the bottom-right corner of the Sony Virtuoso screen. You can see that the listen function is active when the red light on the button is on.

With the listen function active, click once on the student you'd like to monitor. The student you are listening to will be outlined in red. Click on another student to listen to them.

In Paired mode, clicking on any student will also select their partner, and you will be able to hear both students interacting.

To turn the listen function off, click on the listen button again.
