PRACTICUM EXPERIENCE

The Practicum Handbook is intended for Saint Louis University practicum students, their cooperating teachers at their assigned schools, and their university supervisors. It may also serve as a useful reference for the administrators of their cooperating schools and for other individuals directly or indirectly involved with the Saint Louis University School of Education. The handbook is designed to provide an orientation, to promote uniform application of practicum policies, and to enhance communication among all parties involved in the fieldwork experience.

The practicum semester will be intense; preparation is crucial and seeking support is vital. The purpose of the practicum experience is to provide practicum students with extended teaching opportunities while they are collaboratively teaching with a cooperating teacher at a local educational setting.

It is critical that we, together, prepare practicum students with the best training for their increasingly diverse classrooms. We hope that you will find the practicum experience to be a rewarding and enjoyable endeavor. The Saint Louis University School of Education trusts that you will find this guide to be helpful in answering many of your questions.

With best wishes for a successful practicum teaching experience,

TERMINOLOGY

Although the vocabulary for student teaching has never been completely standardized, most of the following definitions are generally accepted by both the Association for Teacher Education and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (CAEP). It appears here as an aid to the reader and will be employed throughout the balance of this handbook.

Practicum Teaching Experience (PT) – The period of guided teaching when the practicum student gradually takes on the responsibility of a full-time teacher under the direction of Saint Louis University professors and cooperating teacher at their field site. During the practicum semester, the practicum student will have the opportunity to learn from outstanding professionals in the field of teacher education and master teacher practitioners in local schools in their specialized field of study.

Practicum Cooperating Teacher (CT) – A certified teacher at the local school, with at least three (3) years of experience. Practicum Cooperating Teachers play a vital role in the practicum experience as the practicum student’s chief mentor. They are role models as teachers. They facilitate the practicum students in analyzing and reflecting upon their own observations and teaching, problem-solve with their practicum student, and provide timely and detailed feedback to the practicum student. They play a key role in helping their practicum student fit into the complete social system of the school as it relates to the broader community.

University Supervisor (US) – A university faculty member who supervises the practicum student in close cooperation with the cooperating teacher. They serve as the direct line of contact between Saint Louis University School of Education, the local school, the cooperating teacher, and the practicum student.

Cooperating School – An off-campus school which provides the facilities and personnel for professional laboratory experiences. All cooperating schools have a mutually agreed upon written agreement with Saint Louis University School of Ed.

Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) - The Department of Elementary and Secondary Education. Teacher preparation programs must operate according to guidelines set forth by this department.

Missouri Standards for Preparation of Educators (MoSPE) – Practicum student evaluations are prescribed by the Missouri Standards for the Preparation of Educators and the Missouri Teacher Standards.

Missouri Educator Evaluation System (MEES) The Missouri Educator Evaluation System contains thirty-six Quality Indicators across nine standards. The Practicum Student is assessed on each of the nine standards by the University Supervisor and the Cooperating Teacher during the practicum semester. MEES Assessment Rubric from DESE

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION SHARED VISION: SHAPE MINDS, HEARTS AND SPIRITS

At the School of Education, we believe a student's education is more than filling heads with facts, but caring for the whole person – intellectually, emotionally and spiritually.

All of our programs share a commitment to intellectual rigor and the use of knowledge for the betterment of our local, national and international communities.

The Bachelor of Arts in Education program at Saint Louis University aims to develop reflective individuals educated in the liberal tradition and committed to service, inquiry and value-centered learning. It also seeks to prepare students who want an education background and have leadership qualities including risk-taking, civic responsibility and ethical character. An education degree is a valuable asset for a number of careers related to education and schooling.

The main objective of all of SLU's education programs is to prepare dedicated, reflective scholar-practitioners who exhibit the knowledge, skills and dispositions embedded in the conceptual framework of the school. As reflective scholar-practitioners, the shared values that guide the School of Education include social justice, cura personalis (care for the whole person), excellence, integrity and trust, and respect. Students are prepared to be reflective educators who can implement educational programs consistent with their areas of expertise.

The School of Education provides a well-rounded liberal arts background to enhance students' educational experience.

- Students enter into a tight-knit community of faculty and peers committed to innovative learning, diversity and the intellectual ideas of the Jesuit tradition.
- Students are prepared to practice "Cura Personalis" — care for the whole person — and work for social justice in their communities.
- Students will graduate prepared to collaborate with families, build classroom communities, have high expectations for all students and advocate for social change.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION MISSION

The mission of the School of Education is the preparation of undergraduate and graduate students for professions to serve as reflective practitioners and leaders in partnership with and for the human community. The School is dedicated to the pursuit of truth and excellence in all academic pursuits. It embraces innovative learning through commitment to diversity and social justice guided by the spiritual and intellectual ideas of the Jesuit tradition. The School advances the University's mission by research and service to family, school, community, and government.

Saint Louis University undergraduate teacher education program prepares teachers who are ethical, caring and knowledgeable professionals, who uphold the rights of others, advocate for diversity, are dedicated to service and are committed to the success of each student. Our graduates are collaborative, creative problem solvers who are reflective, responsible, resourceful scholar practitioners who have a passion for teaching and learning.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION VALUES

The following six core values of the School of Education at Saint Louis University serve as our basic fundamental beliefs in which our attitudes and actions are rooted.

Social Justice – We are committed to prepare practitioners who think on systems levels about inequality – who bring critical consciousness to their work each day and actively work for greater justice. We believe that education is a human right. We hold a preferential option for the poor. We work toward building cultural competence in ourselves and our students. Words to consider: embracing diversity, learning to serve and contributing to change

Reflective Scholar-Practitioners – We honor the whole person in pursuit of the truth. We value the process of learning, recognizing that all practitioners must be scholars in order to be effective educators and leaders. Reflection is a valued tool in our work as scholars, educators and leaders. We hold ourselves and our students to high academic standards. Words and phrases to consider: Life-long learner, critical thinking, responsive to change, growth, pursuit of truth, seeking knowledge, collaborative, innovative, doing our best, sustainable use of resources, environmental consciousness, self-aware, improvement, creativity

Cura Personalis - We care for each person and appreciate each person's unique gifts. Students receive individual attention from their advisors and mentors. Students are valued and have a sense of belonging in our positive learning community. Words to consider: Compassion, student centered, inclusion, self-awareness, inclusive, humility, compassion, kindness, sensitive to other's needs, encouragement

Excellence - We strive for excellence in education and as global citizens. Striving for excellence is key to growth. Words and phrases to consider: Opportunities to grow, innovation, critical thinking, effort (doing our best), high expectations, commitment, global, rigor, academic rigor

Integrity and Trust - We have strong moral principles and serve as positive role models. We acknowledge that all persons work best when trust is cultivated, and thus present. We search for truth, provide honest results, earn trust, and develop empathy. Words to consider: Truth, honesty, trust, empathy

Respect - Everyone deserves to be treated with respect and dignity. We acknowledge, respect, and embrace diversity. Words to consider: Culture, positive intent, inclusion, open, receptive, openness, humility, conflict resolution, seek to understand multiple perspectives, receptive

IGNATIAN PEDAGOGY

Every faculty member at a Jesuit institution finds her own way to connect to her university's particular mission. Whether or not this connection is rooted in shared religious belief, it is at least minimally connected to the Jesuit commitment to the transformational power of education. This commitment manifests itself in various ways, from community-based service learning to addressing social justice issues in the classroom to cura personalis (Latin for "care of the whole person") in our dealings with students.

One way faculty can connect to the larger mission of Jesuit education is to be intentional about using the Ignatian Pedagogy Paradigm to shape students' learning experiences. The five elements of Ignatian pedagogy - context, experience, reflection, action, and evaluation - derive from the underlying principles, values, and actions in St. Ignatius' Spiritual Exercises. They can inform a course implicitly (e.g., in the instructor's orientation toward his students) or be used explicitly to frame the course (e.g., in the course syllabus). Whether we call them "Ignatian" or not, research on learning confirms that these are the conditions for learning.

Ultimately, the elements of Ignatian pedagogy offer a way of understanding how deep, transformative learning occurs. The figure below offers a snapshot of how the process works:

All learning is . . .

- Situated in a specific context.
- Rooted in previous experience and the result of new learning experiences.
- Dependent upon - and deepened by - reflection about those experiences.
- Made meaningful when new knowledge is put into some kind of action.
- Reinforced by explicit evaluation (and ultimately, self-evaluation) of those actions and the degree to which learning has occurred.

Ultimately, these elements should be understood as representing a process, not a prescription, for teaching. They function not as discrete segments or stages of a linear process, but as interdependent facets of any deep learning experience.

OATH OF INCLUSION

Saint Louis University's Oath of Inclusion is a student-led initiative that sets the expectation for all Billikens to promote inclusion on campus. Though it may seem like a lofty feat to accomplish, the Oath serves as an inspiration of what we can accomplish together.

The Oath

We, as students, form a diverse and vibrant university community.

We do not enter into this community by proximity, but by virtue of a shared Jesuit vision — to pursue higher truths, obtain greater knowledge and strive for a better world. In this endeavor, we do not succeed by our individual ambitions, but by our discovery of each other.

We find higher truths when we seek to understand the complexity of our neighbors' identities, we obtain greater knowledge when we consider the perspectives of our fellow students and we begin to strive for a better world when we build a stronger community.

As a student and a member of the SLU community, I will live by this oath.

I will embrace people for the diversity of their identities, creating a community inclusive of race, ethnicity, sex, age, ability, faith, orientation, gender, class and ideology.

I will challenge my worldview through education inside and outside the classroom.

I will show that I am proud to be a Billiken by enriching the culture of our University.

I will foster a community that welcomes all by recognizing the inherent dignity of each person.

I will work for social justice in the Saint Louis community and beyond.

This is the SLU I believe in.

This is the community I am building.

This is our SLU.

SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

Saint Louis University directs its educational efforts to help students develop to be critically reflective, socially responsible, and creatively engaged with the problems facing schools and families. These efforts are based on the Five Dimensions of the Saint Louis University experience: scholarship and knowledge leadership and service, community building, spirituality and values, and intellectual inquiry and communication. In addition, the aim of St. Louis University's Educator Preparation Program is to produce teacher candidates who demonstrate the proficiencies delineated by the Missouri Standards for Preparation of Educators (MoSPE) and the Missouri Teacher Standards.

School of Education Motto

SOE Practicum Experience Objectives

Every practicum student must exhibit that he/she knows and can perform the following expectations. The course expectations are built on good educational practice and state standards for teacher licensure. Demonstration of every component is required and will be documented on the Practicum Student Formative and Summative Assessments During the Practicum Experiences form and the MEES Teacher Candidate Assessment Rubric adjusted for Practicum Experiences form.

Major objectives are based on the Missouri Standards for Teachers
<https://dese.mo.gov/sites/default/files/TeacherStandards.pdf>

Standard 1: Content knowledge aligned with appropriate instruction

1.1 Content knowledge and academic language

1C1) The preservice teacher demonstrates knowledge of accurate content and academic language of the appropriate discipline applicable to the certification area(s) sought as defined by the Subject Competencies for Beginning Teachers in Missouri, as well as an awareness of and efforts to use possible strategies to allow students to process content and increase academic language.

1.2 Student engagement in subject matter

1C2) The preservice teacher demonstrates content knowledge and ability to use multiple subject specific methodologies for specific instructional purposes in order to engage students in content.

Standard 2: Student Learning, Growth and Development

2.4 Differentiated Lesson Design

2C4) The preservice teacher recognizes diversity and the impact it has on education, and is able to describe and attempt possible ways to adjust instruction and differentiate based on student needs.

Standard 3: Curriculum Implementation

3.1 Implementation of curriculum standards

3C1) The preservice teacher understands the components and organization of an effective curriculum; is able to plan, create and attempt to implement learning experiences that are aligned to local, state, and/or national standards/learning outcomes; posts the learning objective in student friendly language.

Standard 4: Critical Thinking

4.1 Student engagement in critical thinking

4C1) The preservice teacher can demonstrate knowledge of researched-based models of critical thinking and problem-solving. This includes explaining and attempting strategies to engage students 1) to self-monitor and/or self-reflect, 2) to analyze and discuss problems, 3) to share ideas and possible solutions with one another, 4) by including questions that promote critical thinking in lesson plans, and 5) by incorporating rigor and relevance.

Standard 5: Positive Classroom Environment

5.1 Classroom management techniques

5C1) The preservice teacher knows how classroom management, motivation, and engagement relate to one another. He or she explains and attempts strategies and techniques for monitoring student behavior and communicating expectations in order to promote student interest and learning.

5.2 Management of time, space, transitions, and activities

5C2) The preservice teacher describes and tries different strategies to minimize disruptions and to manage time, space, transitions, and activities to create an effective learning environment which is aligned with the school's behavior system.

Standard 6: Effective Communication

6.1 Verbal, non-verbal communication

6C1) The preservice teacher understands the importance of and develops the ability to use effective verbal, non-verbal, and media communication techniques, with attempts to provide clear instructions, model desired outcomes, and exhibit suitable oral and written communication.

Standard 7: Student Assessment and Data Analysis

7.1 Effective use of assessments

7C1) The preservice teacher has knowledge of the development, use, and analysis of formative and summative assessment strategies and collects data to monitor the progress of students.

7.2 Assessment data to improve learning

7C2) The preservice teacher understands how data can be accessed, analyzed, and appropriately used, and attempts to use formative assessment strategies to guide/plan future instruction and improve learning activities.

7.5 Communication of student progress and maintaining records

7C5) The preservice teacher can explain the ethical and legal implications of confidentiality of student records and also can describe and analyze strategies for communicating student progress to students, families, colleagues, and administrators, using these strategies if given an opportunity to do so.

Standard 8: Professionalism

8.1 Self-assessment and improvement

8C1) The preservice teacher understands strategies for reflecting on teaching practices to refine their own instructional process in order to promote the growth and learning of students. He or she reflects on the lesson and/or practice, accepts feedback, and monitors/adjusts through prompting or self-assessment for continuous improvement and attainment of goals. The preservice teacher also attends and participates in school or district professional development as appropriate.

Standard 9: Professional Collaboration

9.3 Cooperative partnerships in support of student learning

9C3) The preservice teacher recognizes the importance of developing relationships and cooperative partnerships with students, families, and community members to support students' learning and well-being. He or she seeks to communicate and build appropriate relationships with students, staff and families and participates in collaborative meetings and schoolwide functions as appropriate.

Title IX

Saint Louis University and its faculty are committed to supporting our students and seeking an environment that is free of bias, discrimination, and harassment. If you have encountered any form of sexual misconduct (e.g., sexual assault, sexual harassment, stalking, domestic or dating violence), we encourage you to report this to the University. If you speak with a faculty member about an incident that involves a Title IX matter, that faculty member must notify SLU's Title IX coordinator (or that person's equivalent on your campus) and share the basic facts of your experience. This is true even if you ask the faculty member not to disclose the incident. The Title IX contact will then be available to assist you in understanding all of your options and in connecting you with all possible resources on and off campus.

For most students on the St. Louis campus, the appropriate contact is Anna R. Kratky (DuBourg Hall, room 36; anna.kratky@slu.edu; 314-977-3886). If you wish to speak with a confidential source, you may contact the counselors at the University Counseling Center at 314-977-TALK. To view SLU's sexual misconduct policy, and for resources, please visit the following web addresses: <https://www.slu.edu/here4you> and <https://www.slu.edu/general-counsel>.

Student Success Center

In recognition that people learn in a variety of ways and that learning is influenced by multiple factors (e.g., prior experience, study skills, learning disability), resources to support student success are available on campus. The Student Success Center assists students with academic-related services and is located in the Busch Student Center (Suite, 331). Students can visit <https://www.slu.edu/life-at-slu/student-success-center/> to learn more about tutoring services, university writing services, disability services, and academic coaching.

University Writing Services

Students are encouraged to take advantage of University Writing Services in the Student Success Center; getting feedback benefits writers at all skill levels. Trained writing consultants can help with writing projects, multimedia projects, and oral presentations. University Writing Services offers one-on-one consultations that address everything from brainstorming and developing ideas to crafting strong sentences and documenting sources. For more information, visit <https://www.slu.edu/life-at-slu/student-success-center/academic-support/university-writing-services/index.php> OR call the Student Success Center at 314-977-3484.

Basic Needs Security

Students in personal or academic distress and/or who may be specifically experiencing challenges such as securing food or difficulty navigating campus resources, and who believe this may affect their performance in the course, are encouraged to contact the Dean of Students Office (deanofstudents@slu.edu or 314-977-9378) for support. Furthermore, please notify the instructor if you are comfortable in doing so, as this will enable them to assist you with finding the resources you may need.

Disability Accommodations

Students with a documented disability who wish to request academic accommodations must formally register their disability with the University. Once successfully registered, students also must notify their course instructor that they wish to use their approved accommodations in the course.

Please contact Disability Services to schedule an appointment to discuss accommodation requests and eligibility requirements. Most students on the St. Louis campus will contact Disability Services, located in the Student Success Center and available by email at Disability_services@slu.edu or by phone at 314.977.3484. Once approved, information about a student's eligibility for academic accommodations will be shared with course instructors by email from Disability Services and within the instructor's official course roster. Students who do not have a documented disability but who think they may have one also are encouraged to contact Disability Services. Confidentiality will be observed in all inquiries.

St. Louis University Academic Integrity Statement

Academic integrity is honest, truthful and responsible conduct in all academic endeavors. The mission of Saint Louis University is "the pursuit of truth for the greater glory of God and for the service of humanity." Accordingly, all acts of falsehood demean and compromise the corporate endeavors of teaching, research, health care, and community service via which SLU embodies its mission. The University strives to prepare students for lives of personal and professional integrity, and therefore regards all breaches of academic integrity as matters of serious concern.

The governing University-level Academic Integrity Policy was adopted in Spring 2015, and can be accessed on the Provost's Office website at:

https://www.slu.edu/provost/policies/academic-and-course/policy_academic-integrity_6-26-2015.pdf

School of Education Honesty Policy

Students are expected to be honest in their academic work. The University reserves the right to penalize any student whose academic conduct at any time is, in its judgment, detrimental to the University. Such conduct shall include cases of plagiarism, collusion, cheating, giving or receiving or offering or soliciting information in examinations, or the use of previously prepared material in examinations or quizzes. Violations should be reported to your course instructor, who will investigate and adjudicate them according to the Policy on Academic Honesty of the School of Education. If the charges are found to be true, the student may be liable for academic or disciplinary probation, suspension, or expulsion from the University. Students are also expected to adhere fully to the Saint Louis University School of Education Code of Ethics (see below).

"Reflective practitioners dedicated to the service of others."

Field Experience Code of Ethics and Conduct

The Field Experience Code of Ethics and Conduct documents expectations of Saint Louis University Preservice Teacher, Teacher Candidate, Graduate Students engaged in field work associated with School of Education (SOE) programs and courses, which include visits to schools, observations of classrooms, tutoring, research, practicum and student teaching experiences and other tasks associated with assigned field work. The Saint Louis University Preservice Teacher, Teacher Candidate, Interns, and Fellows, as a representative of the School of Education in his/her fieldwork, agrees to abide by the following code of ethics and conduct:

1. The SOE undergraduate and graduate student shall comply with all policies, statutes, and rules established by state and local agencies as well as those of Saint Louis University. The teacher candidate shall also comply with all rules and regulations of the local school(s) for any field assignment or class assignment (ie. including social network policies).
2. The SOE undergraduate and graduate student will not upload or share photos or videos of the school or students to social media or email.
3. The SOE undergraduate and graduate student shall maintain professional dress and appearance and comply with the school dress code. Casual business attire is suggested. Revealing or tight clothing, shorts (unless required by the field experience) or beachwear are not permitted.
4. The SOE undergraduate and graduate student shall display responsible behavior throughout the field experience. Attendance and punctuality are vital to all field experiences. If the SOE student cannot attend on a scheduled day, he/she must notify the Cooperating Teacher/Mentor and the university supervisor prior to the start of the day. Contact information should be exchanged prior to the start of the field experience.
5. The SOE undergraduate and graduate student shall recognize and respect the diversities that exist in the classroom and plan accordingly.
6. The SOE undergraduate and graduate student shall create and maintain a safe physical and emotional learning environment.
7. The SOE undergraduate and graduate student shall collaborate with others in a positive, cooperative and courteous manner. He/she will avoid making negative remarks about the university program, the cooperating school, the teachers or the community. Constructive criticism should be shared with the appropriate person in a responsible position.
8. The SOE undergraduate and graduate student shall not falsify or misrepresent any facts, documents, student work, reports or information given to faculty, staff, supervising teachers, university supervisors, cooperating teachers, mentor, students, colleagues or others.
9. The SOE undergraduate and graduate students will maintain the highest level of confidentiality when discussing students, their academic achievement, and personal conduct. He/she will discuss students only with university faculty, cooperating teachers, and school supervisory staff. Communications with students and parents of students must be conducted under the supervision of the cooperating teacher/mentor.
10. The SOE undergraduate and graduate student shall develop and adhere to appropriate professional relationships. Developing a friendship that conflicts with professional roles or developing a romantic and/or sexual relationship with a student of the school or local agency is unacceptable. All forms of communications with students shall be conducted at the school or local agency and with the supervision of the cooperating teacher/mentor.
11. The SOE undergraduate and graduate student shall not use any form of harassment such as phone calls, email or any other forms of written communication toward a student of the school or local agency, faculty, staff or colleagues.

I have read, understand and accept the provisions of the School of Education Field Experience Code of Ethics and Conduct as Saint Louis University. A breach of this document may result in the removal from the site and/or hearing procedures to determine consequences.

General Guidelines and Expectations for the Practicum Experience

| Expectation Category | Practicum Student (PS) | Cooperating Teacher (CT) | University Supervisor (US) |
|---|--|---|---|
| Orientation | Prior to the first day, contact school, introduce yourself and schedule a time for CT and administrator to meet you and provide an orientation to expectations in place at the school. Ask for access to the student and/or staff handbooks and become familiar with them. (Check website for this.) Follow the guidelines established by the school. Review the Practicum Handbook with US and CT. Read and sign the Field Experience Code of Ethics and Conduct form sharing it on your SOE Field Office Google folder. | Along with your administrator, provide the PS with an orientation to the expectations in place at the school. Provide access to the student and/or staff handbooks. If possible, arrange a desk or table in the classroom for the PS to use as a “home base” for organizing and keeping materials. A Note About the Practicum Experience

Planning the experiences of a practicum student is not an easy task, but should certainly be a rewarding one! It is especially difficult for the Saint Louis University Department of Education to suggest any set pattern because of the uniqueness of each practicum student, cooperating educator, and classroom setting. Consequently, cooperating educators are in the best position to formulate a plan by which their practicum student will experience meaningful classroom responsibilities tailored to meet the needs of the practicum student as well as the needs of the children they will serve. Below you will find some suggestions/things to consider. The practicum student and cooperating educator should co-develop the semester plan. This plan should allow the preservice teacher to gradually increase responsibilities, knowledge, skills, and dispositions in the classroom.

- We suggest the practicum student starts the first week with observing, and then after the first week s/he have responsibility for at least one aspect in the classroom (ex. Daily morning tasks – lunch count, attendance, calendar).
- The Planning Schedule for Practicum Students form is included in this packet. Our goal is for the practicum student to engage in the same activities as the cooperating teacher usually performs.
- Each week the practicum students has the opportunity to maintain or relinquish previous teaching responsibilities. We encourage our practicum students to plan a variety of experiences (for ex. Theme Unit, Portfolio on one student) for the classroom. We also encourage our practicum student to try all teaching aspects/co-teaching (lead assist, parallel teaching, separate teaching – outline provided)
- We encourage the cooperating educator to provide a realistic perspective of the work required of a full-time teacher. The cooperating educator is to maintain supervision throughout each task.
- During the last week we encourage our practicum students to observe in other classrooms.

get on your way!*

What does the Co-teaching Model look like?

With co-teaching, the practicum student typically becomes involved in the classroom immediately. Lessons are planned and taught by both the teacher and the practicum student, resulting in the practicum student being seen by students as a “real teacher” from the beginning of the experience. The co-planning process is designed for the practicum student to hear and discuss the thoughts and strategies that are used in lesson planning by their mentor teacher. The co-teaching strategies do not need to be used on every lesson.

What are the seven approaches to co-teaching?

1. One Teach, One Observe – The key is to focus the observation. The co-teaching pair determines which specific behaviors to observe. It is important to remember that either the cooperating educator or the teacher candidate could take either role.
2. One Teach, One Supports – This is an extension of one teach, one observe. One teacher has primary instructional responsibility, while the other assists students’ with their work, monitors behaviors, or corrects assignments.
3. Station Teaching – The co-teaching pair divides the instructional content into parts. Each teacher instructs one of the groups; groups then rotate or spend a designated amount of time at each station.
4. Parallel Teaching – Each teacher instructs half the students. The two teachers are addressing the same instructional material, using the same teaching strategies.
5. Supplemental Teaching- This strategy allows one teacher to work with students at their expected grade level, while the other teacher works with those students who need the information and/or materials retaught, extended or remediated.
6. Alternative (differentiated) Teaching - Alternative teaching strategies provide two different approaches to teaching the same information. The learning outcome is the same for all students; however, the avenue for getting there is different.
7. Team Teaching – Well-planned team-taught lessons exhibit an invisible flow of instruction with no prescribed division of authority. Using a team-teaching strategy, both teachers are actively involved in the lesson.

Example Planning Schedule for the Semester

The practicum student and cooperating educator should develop a semester plan. This plan should allow the practicum student to gradually increase responsibilities, knowledge, skills, and dispositions in the classroom. Remember, every practicum and related participants are unique, but the following planning example shows several ideas you may wish to include.

Week 1 Overview/Observe

An orientation phase at the beginning of the semester provides practicum students with an opportunity to become familiar with school policies, classroom routines, building personnel, classroom objectives, procedures, and individual students. Become familiar with any IEP/student accommodations and modifications.

Week 2 Daily Tasks – lunch, attendance

Teaching Aspect: Cooperating educator leads and practicum student supports. Build home, school, and community relations – How?

Week 3 Familiarize with Assessment Tools/Curriculum and Objectives

Observe and document all children – interest, ability, and learning style.

Teaching Aspect: Practicum student observes students and documents as the Cooperating Educator teaches.

Week 4 Activity to Build Rapport

Teaching Aspect: Practicum student leads and Cooperating educator supports

Week 5 Assess the Environment

Identify an individual for mini portfolio. Obtain permission from family.

Identify a “theme” of interest which could be implemented later in the semester.

Week 6 Plan and Implement First Hour During your Practicum Experience

Teaching Aspect: Station Teach – The practicum student and the cooperating educator/therapist instructs one of the groups; groups then rotate or spend a designated amount of time at each station.

Week 7 Utilize Technology

Create and implement a lesson using technology as a tool.

Teaching Aspect: Alternative (differentiated) Teaching - Alternative teaching strategies provide two different approaches to teaching the same information. The learning outcome is the same for all students; however, the avenue for getting there is different.

Week 8 Plan and Implement Second Hour During your Practicum Experience

Teaching Aspect: Parallel Teaching- The practicum student and the cooperating educator have small groups teaching the same thing. The practicum student collects data on select child.

Week 9 Fall Break – Continue with teaching aspects from week 8.

Week 10/11 Differentiated Lesson Plan
Create and implement a differentiated lesson plan.

Week 12 Embedding Learning Strategies
Teaching Aspect: Supplemental Teaching- This strategy allows one teacher to work with students at their expected grade level, while the other teacher works with those students who need the information and/or materials retaught, extended or remediated.

Week 13 Embedding Learning Strategies and/or Peer Coaching
Teaching Aspect: Separate Teaching: The practicum student and the cooperating educator both have a small group teaching a different aspect and then switch groups.

Week 14 Whole Group – Theme-
Create and implement a learning center related to the theme unit.

Week 15 Whole Group – Theme
Create and implement a learning center related to the theme unit.
Teaching Aspect: Team Teaching – Well-planned team-taught lessons exhibit an invisible flow of instruction with no prescribed division of authority. Using a team-teaching strategy, both teachers are actively involved in the lesson.

Week 16 Observe at least 2-3 other settings.

The Lesson Plan Format has been adapted from the outline used in the MoPTA assessment. It is designed to help a teacher candidate develop well-planned and structured lessons. This suggested format also can help a teacher candidate better understand and design meaningful daily lessons that can positively enhance his or her instructional practice and students' learning. An agreed upon lesson plan format should be discussed early and often.

Differentiation/ Accommodations/ Modifications/ Increase in Rigor

Reflecting on my previous lesson, what changes do I need to make to support each learner?

How do I set up a flexible and supportive learning environment that promotes success?

How do I plan lessons differentiated by readiness, interest, and learning profile?

How do I meet the needs of all learners, learning, cultural and language differences, etc.?

How do I differentiate content, process, and/or product?

How do I create an environment preparing students, parents, and myself for the challenges of differentiation?

STANDARDS/QUALITY INDICATORS/SKILLS

Which Missouri and/or national standards, quality indicators, and skills are addressed in this lesson?

What do I want my students to learn?

Why are these standards important?

What modifications might be considered? Am I differentiating content?

Differentiation/ Accommodations/ Modifications/ Increase in Rigor

Is this standard meeting the needs of all students?

LEARNING OBJECTIVES/GOALS

This is where you identify the specific skill, insight, concept you want them to learn -- not what you want them to DO in the lesson.

What measurable objectives are you addressing in this lesson?

Are the intended learning outcomes appropriate for meeting curricular and student needs? ((e.g., S.M.A.R.T. goal))

Differentiation/ Accommodations/ Modifications/ Increase in Rigor

How do I meet the needs of all learners, learning, cultural and language differences, etc.?

Is the learning objective appropriate for all students?

Do I need to consider differentiating the content or process?

ASSESSMENT

*How will I determine student learning in relation to the goal(s)/objective(s)? (e.g., frequency, duration, accuracy)
How can I share the knowledge and skills the students demonstrate? (e.g., graph, checklist, anecdotal notes, photos)
Does my assessment provide students with a meaningful opportunity to show what they know? Is your assessment tool allowing the students to self-monitor or self-reflect?
Does the assessment tool inform my objective(s)?*

Differentiation/ Accommodations/ Modifications/ Increase in Rigor

Does the assessment tool(s) inform all objectives? How are you differentiating the assessment tools to illustrate student success? (e.g., social/emotional, task focus, engagement, organization, participation)
