"I came from an already diverse boarding high school with students from over 35 different countries, but when I got to SLU-Madrid my international experience was taken to a whole new level. Here I was surrounded on a daily basis by students my age from more than 65 different countries, each with their own unique background and experiences, giving me a completely new perspective on life. What makes SLU-Madrid unique goes beyond its great academic program…it’s all the little nuances you only get to experience because of this incredible diverse matrix of individuals. Learning and growing continues outside the classroom, and it’s something that transcends the value of any tuition, course credit, or GPA.”

“Studying in a richly multicultural environment has helped me open my horizons and my mind, providing me with a grand vision of the future and my personal motto: Life is not about reaching your goals, it’s about being happy while doing it.”

“I am really glad that I chose SLU-Madrid because it provided me the opportunity to study in three different countries (Spain, US and China). I met people from all over the world and learned to have a global vision. SLU offers unique educational opportunities and prepares you to work in today’s globalized world.”

“I’ve always wanted to travel the world, so when I heard about SLU-Madrid it was an opportunity I couldn’t pass up. How many people from this side of the Atlantic get to live in Spain and travel around Europe or even Africa for two years? Not only is it a great experience, but you become much more marketable in the ‘real world.’ At SLU I can improve my Spanish and even pick up any of the umpteen other languages spoken around campus by the students. The small class sizes make it easy to access professors and even easier to make friends. I now have a place to stay in over ten countries on five continents…and counting!”
“Going abroad for my college education was an easy choice; there’s no better way to study international communication than in such a metropolitan city like Madrid. Beyond that, the classes here truly focus on cross-cultural interaction, something you’ll experience inside the classroom and out given the diverse student body and multitude of languages. You’ll have the chance to immerse yourself in a new culture, new languages, and travel the globe. Come be a global citizen at SLU-Madrid, and discover everything that Madrid has in store for you!
