Welcome to the Ethical Leaders in Business Learning Community. This community provides students exciting and unique opportunities for academic and personal growth. The quality of this experience will depend in large on your commitment to the ideals of this program. Being a part of the Ethical Leaders in Business Learning Community is a privilege that comes with responsibilities. Ethical Leaders in Business Learning Community students are expected to participate in the programs offered take a more active role in the creation of a positive, inclusive living environment.

What you can expect as a member of the Ethical Leaders in Business Learning Community:

- A Resident Advisor to assist you in the Learning Community and serve as a resource.
- Each Learning Community is provided a LC budget that the Learning Community Stakeholders and the residents determine how to use each semester.
- LC Mentors, students returning to the learning community, who work with the Resident Advisor to assist you in your transition.
- Opportunities to meet faculty and staff that support the theme of the Learning Community.
- Programs to assist you in becoming more academically and professionally successful.
- Social activities to assist you in getting to know other community members better.
- Opportunities to engage you with other campus events or other communities to help expand your campus connections.

Expectations of students in the Ethical Leaders in Business Learning Community:

- Students in FIGs within the Ethical Leaders in Business Learning Community are expected to participate in the FIGs Orientation. This event is Thursday, August 3, 2012.
- Returning students to the Learning Community will be encouraged to assist new members and serve as a resource. They will take a leadership role within the community and help plan events for the Learning Community. May be able to move in early with the new students to the Learning Community – must submit an early arrival application through Housing to be considered and approved for early move-in.
- All members will develop community goals and individual goals for the year. All members will meet with the Resident Advisors at least once individually.
- All members will participate in activities coordinated for the Learning Community such as a Learning Community kick-off event, service event, cultural event, multi-cultural event, floor meetings, and other LC events.
- All members will contribute to a cooperative atmosphere on the floor by maintaining a positive attitude toward other residents and participate in planned activities in order to develop a strong sense of community spirit and involvement.
- All members will respect one another and learn about each other. The community will foster a respect for individuals from all racial, ethnic and religious backgrounds and beliefs. Students will work to be an inclusive environment where all members and guests feel welcomed and valued.
- All members will work to build community within their floor(s) and to be inclusive of non-LC students that live within (or without) of the community to ensure all students feel welcomed and part of the community.

Minimum Member Requirements:

- I will participate in at least half of the ongoing programs offered for the Learning Community.
- I will strive to reach my full academic potential by keeping up with my studies and assignments, and by attending class on a regular basis.
- I will respect the other community members, particularly by helping to create an atmosphere conducive to study.
- I will participate in assessment and evaluation processes designed to help further enhance the development of the program.
- I will abide by the Housing and Residence Life policies, Code of Student Conduct, university mission and policies, and local, state and federal laws.

Participation:
The Ethical Leaders in Business Learning Community’s success depends upon your commitment and participation. If participation is not satisfactory, we reserve the right to remove you from the community and/or not permit you to recontract to live in the Ethical Leaders in Business Learning Community for the next academic year. If you change your major or interest, you may still remain in the in the Ethical Leaders in Business Learning Community and continue to live on the floor(s), as long as you continue to be an active participant in the program.