INTRODUCTION

Beginning with Fall 2011, all theses, projects, and dissertations are submitted electronically to ProQuest/UMI for publication after all changes have been made to the document in accordance with recommendations of the thesis/project/dissertation advisor and committee and after the format review is completed. If departments or students would like to obtain a bound paper copy, they must do so at their expense.

The ProQuest/UMI website (<http://www.etdadmin.com/slu>) has the answer to many questions that you may have about the electronic transmission of the thesis/project/dissertation (ETD) and the options available for publication and copyright. Additional resources can be found here: <http://www.etdadmin.com/cgi-bin/main/resources?siteId=279>

The Candidacy Specialists' offices are in DuBourg Hall, Rooms 420 C&D. Please visit <http://www.slu.edu/academics/graduate/information-for-current-students.php> for contact information and procedures.

1: MANUSCRIPT PREPARATION

Materials and Instructions

Font

The font size for the body of the thesis/project/dissertation must be no smaller than 12-point and should remain the same font type throughout the entire document; the font of table and figure titles, their captions and legends, and all notes should be no smaller than 8-point. Font must be legible. Select a clear, basic font (example: Arial, Times New Roman). Script fonts are not acceptable.

Margins

All pages (including the title and preliminary pages and pages containing tables or figures) must have 1-inch (2.5 cm) margins on all sides. Only page numbers may encroach on the margins.

Justification

Text must be justified against the left margin and each paragraph should be indented. Full justification to the right is not acceptable.

Page numbers cited in the Table of Contents, List of Tables, and List of Figures must be right justified.

Spacing

Double-space all text in the body of the thesis/project/dissertation including the Vita Auctoris. The following exceptions are single-spaced: block quotations (40 words or more in length); footnotes; endnotes; table titles and figure captions and legends; individual titles of tables in the List of Tables; and individual titles of figures in the List of Figures. In the Table of Contents single-space between subheadings within chapters and double-space between chapters and chapter equivalents (List of Tables, List of Figures, appendices, etc.).

The bibliography or list of references may be single- or double-spaced as determined by the style sheet of the major field.

Pagination

Page numbers are located at the bottom center of the pages. A single sequence of consecutive Arabic numerals (1, 2, 3, etc.) is required to paginate the text. Lower-case Roman numerals (i, ii, iii, etc.) are to paginate the preliminary pages; these numerals must be located at the bottom center of the preliminary pages. The title page is not counted or numbered.

Color

Text, with the exception of web links, must be in black ink. Both black and white and color illustrations/figures are acceptable.

Section Breaks/Preparing One Document

The thesis, dissertation or project is made up of three sections: the title page, preliminary pages, and the body of text. To change your page numbers for different sections in one document:

1. Divide your document into sections and then change the page number format for each section.
2. Insert a section break (under Page Layout Tab) where you want to change the page numbers. To do this, click where you want to insert a section break. On the Insert menu, point to Break, and then click the type of section break you want to insert.
3. With the cursor in a particular section, go to the Insert menu and choose Page Numbers.
4. Choose the page number options you want (click Format and change the page number format), and click OK.
5. Repeat that for each section in the document.

There are also additional resources to assist with section breaks in Microsoft Word.

Abstract

The abstract is required when submitting your thesis/dissertation or project to ProQuest. The abstract is to contain a maximum of 350 words. It provides a brief summary of the content of the thesis, project or dissertation to enable the reader to decide whether or not to study the entire document. The abstract should include relevant words and phrases upon which electronic searches may be initiated. The abstract must not contain subscripts, superscripts, or special letters (example: Greek characters) because they are not printable through Dissertation Abstracts International. References are to be excluded.

Order of the Thesis, Project, or Dissertation

The title page includes the author's name followed by abbreviations of previous degrees received. Be sure to include periods (e.g., "B.A." rather than "BA"), but no spaces after the periods. If the author is a member of a religious community, a title may precede the name, and the initials of the religious order may follow the name and precede the abbreviations of a previous degree or degrees (e.g., Reverend Andrew Smith, O.F.M., B.A., M.Div.) The centered block that is low on the page (but above the year of degree conferral) is uniform in content except for the title of the degree sought. See example title page at the end of Section 1.

Preliminary Pages

Preliminary pages are numbered with lower-case Roman numerals. See Section Breaks/Preparing One Document for page numbering. The headings on the preliminary pages (e.g., Acknowledgements, Table of Contents, etc.) must be formatted the same as chapter titles.

© Copyright by

ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

2020 (Year of Publication)

More information can be found regarding copyright in Section 4.

Committee Page

This page lists the thesis/project/dissertation committee members. Information will begin half way down the page and the committee chairperson is listed first and the remaining committee members are listed in alphabetical order by their last names. Contact committee members for their current academic rank or look at members ranking in People Finder. Only academic ranking and names are required for this page. Follow example at the end of this section.

Dedication Page (optional)

Double-space the text on this page. The title “Dedication” must appear at the top center of the page. The dedication may be as long or short as desired, and the thesis/project/dissertation may be dedicated to whomever the author chooses. If it is just a short phrase, center on page, and then the title “Dedication” is optional.

Acknowledgement Page (optional)

Double-space the text on this page. The title “Acknowledgement” (or “Acknowledgements”) must appear at the top center of the page. The acknowledgement(s) may be as long or short as desired. Faculty or anyone else who contributed to the work may be recognized (e.g., a person who distributed surveys). Grant-funding sources or an organization that supported your work financially or through providing information may be cited.

Table of Contents

The words “Table of Contents” must appear at the top center of the page. The Table of Contents includes the List of Tables (if applicable), the List of Figures (if applicable), the List of Abbreviations (if applicable), chapter titles, headings, and subheadings, any appendices, the Bibliography, and the Vita Auctoris. The associated page numbers are displayed at the right margin. The chapter titles must match the titles that appear in the text. If lengthy, headings may be condensed. Subsequent lines of headings should be aligned under the first letter of the heading title. The Table of Contents should include at least the first three levels of headings. Additional headings may also be included but can be left out. For an example of an ideal table of contents see the example page at the end of this section.

For more information on creating a table of contents using Microsoft Word visit <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OG4JmWMXgko> or look for other videos on the site.

List of Tables

This list is required if one or more tables appear in the text. The List of Tables precedes the List of Figures and directly follows the Table of Contents. The title “List of Tables” must be placed at the top center of the page. Single-space each table title (when the title extends beyond one line) and double-space between each complete title. (Every table must have a title beyond, e.g., “Table 4.”) Second and any subsequent lines in the table title must be aligned under the first letter of title. Table titles in the List of Tables are to be identical in content to the titles as they appear in the text; however, a lengthy, individual title may be condensed in the List of Tables. Entries within the List of Tables must be consistent in their format. Should there be just one table, it is numbered. See the example of a list of tables page at the end of this section.

List of Figures

This list is required if one or more figures appear in the text. The List of Figures page follows the List of Tables page. The title “List of Figures” must be placed at the top center of the page. Each figure must have a caption, which is its title. Single-space each figure caption (when the caption extends beyond one line); double-space between each complete caption. Second and any subsequent lines in the figure caption must be aligned under the first letter of the title. The content of a figure caption in the List should be identical to the caption beneath the actual figure within the text; however, a lengthy caption in the text may be appropriately paraphrased in condensed form within the List. (Every figure must have a caption beyond, e.g., “Figure 3.”) Entries within the List of Figures must be consistent in their format. Should there be just one figure, it is numbered. See the example of a list of figures page at the end of this section.

List of Abbreviations (optional)

If numerous abbreviations and/or codes appear in the text, a List of Abbreviations may be prepared for the benefit of the reader. The order within the List should be either alphanumeric or in the order of the first appearance of the abbreviation/code within the text. The List would be formatted in the manner of the List of Tables or List of Figures, but without associated page numbers. The List of Abbreviations would immediately follow the List of Figures within the preliminary pages.

Body of the Thesis/Project/Dissertation

Typically, the body is divided into chapters (sections for Ed.D. projects ONLY). Chapters always begin on a new page. The author, advisor, and the committee determine the content.

Appendices

An appendix is a body of supplemental text that, as judged by the author and committee, if included directly in the thesis/project/dissertation would compromise continuity of the narrative. A single appendix is assigned no number/letter/code; it is simply the "Appendix." Should there be several appendices, distinguish among them by letter (A, B, etc.) or number (1, 2, etc; or I, II, etc); their order should be that of first mention in the body of the thesis/ project/dissertation. If tables (e.g., Table A2) or figures (e.g., "See Figure B1 in Appendix B.") are included in the appendices, they must also be mentioned in the text and included in the List of Tables or Figures. The appendix/appendices immediately follow the body of the text; it/they have the same rank as a chapter. See example Table of Contents at the end of this section. Copyrighted scales and measures cannot be included without written permission from copyright holder to reprint in thesis/project/dissertation. Visit the APA website for more information on copyright and permissions. <http://www.apa.org/about/contact/copyright/index.aspx>

List of References/Bibliography/Works Cited

This section follows either the last chapter, notes or the last appendix. Any of the five titles "References," "List of References," "References Cited," "Bibliography," or "Works Cited" is acceptable. The title selected must appear at the top center of the first page of this section. Each and every source that is referenced within the text or the notes must be contained in the bibliography section; similarly, no entry may be listed that is not referenced in the text or notes. The forms and order of bibliographic entries are determined by the style manual or style sheet of the major field. The Bibliography has the same rank as a chapter. See example Table of Contents. If there is a conflict between the style requirements of the major field and this formatting directive, Saint Louis University- Graduate Education's rules supersede all other style requirements.

Vita Auctoris / Vitae Auctorum (REQUIRED)

The title "Vita Auctoris" (or the plural "Vitae Auctorum" if there are multiple authors) must appear at the top center of the page. This is a personal/professional biography that may include the following events in chronological order: date and place of birth; (post-secondary) educational institutions attended; degrees and honors conferred and anticipated; titles of publications; and teaching and professional experience. It should be concise and written in the third person. It is the last item to appear in the Table of Contents, and it is the final section of the thesis/project/dissertation.

2: TABLES AND FIGURES

Referring to Tables, Figures, and Appendices in Text

Every figure, table, and appendix must be referenced within the text; the reference in each instance is through the number of the table or figure or the letter of the appendix. The reference may be embedded in a sentence, be placed in parentheses at the end of a sentence, or be a separate sentence (e.g., “See Figure 10.”).

Placement of Tables and Figures

A table or figure should appear shortly after it is first mentioned/referenced in the text, on the same or the following page if possible. If a series of tables or figures is first mentioned in the text as a group, the tables/figures should be located on successive pages without interrupting text. If a series of tables or figures is so lengthy that it may be distracting to the reader, the entire series can be placed in the order mentioned at the end of the chapter or in the appendix (e.g., “See Figures 1-6 in Appendix A.”).

Placement of Titles

The table title is located at the beginning of the table and the figure title is placed beneath the figure. The table titles and figure titles must appear on the same page as the table or figure. Font styles and sizes must remain the same for every table and figure.

Table 1: Breakdown of Healthcare Cost for the Average Missouri Citizen

Prescriptions	Doctor Visits	Over the Counter Medicines
$700	$450	$125

(Author, date, pg. #)

Tables on Multiple Pages

Scanning/Digitizing Pictures/Images

Any text located on or within a scanned image and the image itself must be clear and legible with no blurring or fuzziness. Technological assistance is available in the Instructional Media Center in the Xavier Hall annex. Cite images as if they were quotations.

3: SPECIAL DISSERTATION OPTIONS

The Three-Article Dissertation Format

Specific Ph.D. degree programs permit the doctoral candidate the option of compiling three (or more) related articles that have been published or approved for publication in one or more peer-reviewed scholarly journals. The articles are related to a central theme. Each article becomes a chapter within the dissertation. Because the major field and dissertation committee may have particular content-based requirements, the graduate student must become familiar with the protocol details in the particular discipline. Not all doctoral programs allow the three-article dissertation, so be sure to check with your department before pursuing this option. See Section 4 for complete information regarding inclusion of articles that have already been published. At the bottom of the first page of each chapter that has previously been published or accepted for publication place a footnote containing the publication information, including the original title of the forthcoming article if different from the current chapter title.

Non-Traditional Dissertation Format

The non-traditional dissertation format is somewhat different. The body of the non-traditional format consists of at least three thematically related original article-length manuscripts. The student must be the first (or sole) author on at least two of these manuscripts but may be the second author on one manuscript. Two of the manuscripts must have been fully accepted for publication in a high-impact journal and the third must be under review before the dissertation defense can be scheduled. That is, the journals must have Institute for Scientific Information (ISI) impact factors of 0.75 or greater. Journals that do not meet the ISI impact factor may be deemed appropriate only if the student receives the full support and recommendation of the dissertation committee chair and members.

All of the members of the graduate faculty on the dissertation committee must approve of the non-traditional dissertation before it can be pursued. The non-traditional dissertation defense cannot occur until the minimum of two articles has been fully accepted for publication in high-impact journals and the third manuscript is under review.

The non-traditional dissertation format normally includes at least five chapters. The first chapter provides a statement of the problem, its background and significance, the hypotheses to be tested, the rationale and justification for how the three manuscripts are thematically related, and an overview of the remaining chapters. Chapters two, three, and four are the article-length manuscripts themselves. Chapter five discusses the implications of those results, draws the appropriate conclusions, and lays out an agenda for future research on the issues addressed in the dissertation. At the bottom of the first page of each chapter that has been accepted for publication place a footnote containing the publication information, including the original title of the forthcoming article if different from the current chapter title. See Section 4 for complete information regarding inclusion of articles that have already been published or are under review.

4: COPYRIGHT INFORMATION

Determining if Material is Copyrighted

The copyright symbol (©) indicates that the person or company whose name appears after the symbol copyrights the material.

Some general rules of thumb are as follows: 1) professional journals, magazines, and newspapers often hold the copyright on all articles they publish including articles with the student as the author; 2) publishing houses usually hold the copyright on all books; 3) foreign copyrights are as valid as U.S. copyrights; 4) permission is required for the use of materials from some private collections and museums without respect to copyright.

Using Copyrighted /Published Material

Permission to quote, reprint (include a copy in the thesis/dissertation/project), or adapt copyrighted/published material is obtained from the copyright holder. ProQuest assumes no liability for copyright violations. When images, tables, figures, poems, pictures, maps, or other work from materials obtained from archives, museums, or copyrighted/published sources are included in a thesis, project, or dissertation the student must follow the policies of the respective sources concerning permission requirements. A copy of the permission letter must be placed in an appendix of the thesis, project, or dissertation. Start the permission process early in your writing, ideally as soon as you know what copyrighted material you want to use. It will take time to apply to the copyright holder and to receive a response.

Copyrighted Articles

If publication rights were transferred to the journal(s) that published your own article(s), permission(s) must be obtained from the publisher(s) to include this material in the dissertation. In addition, the letter(s) that formally give permission must be included in an appendix of the dissertation.

Obtaining Copyright Permission

When contacting publishers or authors, do not leave the permission request open-ended. Be specific about use of copyrighted work. Say, for example, that you would like to use a figure, large quotations, a measure or an instrument in your thesis/dissertation/project. The copyright holder should be asked for a written response (e-mail is acceptable), whether the answer is yes or no. Inquire about any time limits or restrictions placed on your use of the document.

Additional Copyright and Fair Use Information

Additional copyright information can be found on the resources page of ProQuest at www.etsadmin.com/slu. This website should answer most copyright questions. If further information is needed, consult the United States Copyright Office, Library of Congress online at <http://www.loc.gov/copyright/> or for information on fair use visit the US Copyright website at www.copyright.gov/fls/fl102.html

Issues of Continuity and Consistency

A published article is a complete entity unto itself as it appears in a journal, but within the three-article dissertation option it is just one part of a larger document. As a result, modifications of the formats of the articles likely are necessary to ensure compliance with Graduate Education's formatting guidelines.

Considerations on Copyrighting the Thesis/Project/Dissertation

ProQuest files copyright paperwork on behalf of the student for a fee if the student chooses. The thesis/project/dissertation is protected by copyright law with or without formal copyright registration. However the copyright page is now required to further protect your work as suggested by the university library. Including a copyright page and registering a claim to copyright provides additional protection and increases the likelihood of winning a lawsuit for copyright infringement should the copyright holder have occasion to bring such a suit. See an example of a copyright page in the sample pages.

Student authors hold the copyright for their projects or dissertations even when their work contains material copyrighted by other persons or entities. The authors must provide appropriate attribution of and secure all necessary permissions (in writing) for the use of others' copyrighted material. It is possible that third party permissions may include a condition that permits the inclusion of that copyrighted material in the University's copy of the work, but requires that it be omitted from other copies, including those provided to ProQuest. In such cases, the redistributed copies may contain a page bearing the statement PAGE INTENTIONALLY LEFT BLANK. This protects the material copyrighted by others from reproduction and distribution by others who do not hold the associated rights.

5: INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS PURSUING A MASTER OF SCIENCE IN DENTISTRY

An approved thesis format for students in the Center for Advanced Dental Education (CADE) incorporates a one-journal article format and a literature review. Each section of the thesis has its own list of references (Literature Cited or Bibliography). The same method of citing [note numbering or author (date)] should be used in both sections. If superscript numbers are used, they are to be consecutive and separate for each chapter.

Samples of a title page and a table of contents page appear on the following pages. Other formatting rules of Graduate Education are detailed throughout this guide.

6: FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Style Manuals

What should I do when my department's/major field's style manual and the Saint Louis University-Graduate Education's formatting guide conflict?

In all cases, the Graduate Education formatting guide takes precedence.

I'm using APA, which requires a running head. Do I use a running head for my thesis, project, or dissertation?

No.

I'm not sure which style manual my department uses. How can I find out?

Ask either your advisor or department chair/graduate director.

If numeric referencing is the protocol for referencing sources in the text, can the authors be listed in the Bibliography in alphabetical order?

When using numeric referencing and chapter notes with numbers beginning with 1 for each chapter, the reference section at the end of thesis/dissertation/project can be alphabetical.

When using references cited in the text by number, where is the number placed in relationship to text punctuation?

Numeric references should follow any punctuation marks except the semicolon, which they precede.

Headings

Is there a certain way to set up headings?

A heading is a phrase that begins a major section or chapter. Headings are useful to guide the reader quickly through the document. The organization of the work is the author's choice, but certain considerations must be kept in mind. Headings must be consistent throughout in type style, placement, and font size. For example, if the first chapter/section title appears in all capitals, then all chapter/section titles should appear in capitals. The next level of heading needs to be different from chapter titles and consistent. The style for chapter headings is also used for preliminary page headings, appendices, the bibliography, and the vita auctoris.

How do I properly rank my headings?

Some formatting manuals, such as that of the APA, give specific layout instructions. Others permit the author to design the ranking. Just bear in mind the following: the chapter title is of the highest rank, so it should be the “flashiest,” which means it should grab the reader’s attention more than headings within the chapter. The chapter title and all equally ranked titles are centered at the top of the page. The chapter title could be all capital letters, a larger font size, bold type, etc., to make it stand out. The first heading you use for the first section of the chapter is of the next rank; thus, it needs to have one less feature than the chapter heading (i.e., perhaps it is a smaller font, or not bold type, or not all capital letters). If there are subsections beneath this heading, their headings rank lower, so the subheading has one less feature than the heading (e.g., it may be left justified rather than centered, or not bold type, not all capital letters, etc.). Remove or reduce one feature each time in proceeding to a lower rank.

Terminology Used with Ranking Headings

UPPERCASE:	ALL LETTERS ARE CAPITALIZED IN THE HEADING
Title Case:	All Words except Articles and Prepositions Are Capitalized
Sentence case:	The heading looks like a sentence; only the first letter and Proper names are capitalized
lower case:	all letters in the heading are lower case

The Format Check

Why is the style and format review required?

The Master’s and Doctoral Candidacy Specialists check for the uniformity and quality of thesis, projects, and dissertations that are produced by graduate students at Saint Louis University. The Candidacy Specialists also verify that works referenced in the text are listed in the References/Bibliography and that the formatting guide and style manuals are followed correctly, quotations are cited correctly, appropriate permissions to use already published work have been received, and formatting is consistent within the entire document.

After making the changes required by the Candidacy Specialist, is a second submission required?

Only if specifically requested.

Copies of Theses/Projects/Dissertations

How can the graduate obtain a bound copy of the thesis/project/dissertation?

Students may order a copy from ProQuest, UMI when submitting their thesis, project, or dissertation for publication.

Quotation Marks with Periods and Commas

Periods and commas must be positioned correctly in relation to close-quotation marks. These two punctuation marks are always individually placed ahead of the close-quotation marks.

the comma (,)

the period (.)

CORRECT

“...in this way,”
“...like this.”

INCORRECT

“...in this way”,
“...like this”.

Other punctuation marks, such as the semi-colon (;), colon (:), question mark (?), and exclamation point (!) are placed after the close-quotation marks. The sole exception occurs when one of these four symbols is a part of the quotation itself, in which case the symbol is placed before the close-quotation marks.

Block Quotations

Block quotations are always INDENTED from the left side only at least five spaces, and are SINGLE-SPACED.

No beginning and ending quotation marks are used in the case of a single-spaced, block-format quotation. The fact that this material is isolated by means of the single-spaced block format effectively substitutes for the quotation marks.

Any DIRECT QUOTATION OF 40 OR MORE WORDS SHOULD BE IN BLOCK QUOTATION FORMAT. An exception to this rule occurs with a list of several pages of short- to medium-length responses to a questionnaire or an interview.

Leaving Items Hanging

The heading or subheading for a new section of the thesis/project/dissertation may not be the last line on a page. Instead, place the heading at the top of the next page.
