This course provides an introduction to American law, focusing on the manner in which law has been used to organize American society. Several themes will be traced through the semester, including law’s role in encouraging innovation and regulating social relations, in part through the elaboration of legal disciplines like property, tort, contract, criminal law, tax, business associations, administrative law, environmental law, securities regulation, commercial law, immigration, and civil rights. Emphasis will also be placed on the origins and evolution of constitutional law, from the founding to the present.

Class Preparation: Attendance and participation in class discussions count for 25% of the final grade. You will be allowed two unexcused absences and one pass (for not reading). Any absences or passes beyond that may result in a grade reduction. In the interest of fairness to all students, there will be no extensions or make-ups without a signed and dated doctor’s note. Please be aware that late assignments will lose 3 points (or one third of a grade) every day past the due date.

Your decision to participate in this course indicates your agreement to abide by all stated deadlines and requirements.

Term Essay: This essay is an extended study (8-10 pages) of a topic concerning some aspect of American law. Paper topics are due in class or via email no later than Tuesday, October 23. Final papers are due in class on Thursday, Nov. 15.

Exams: There will be two essay exams: a midterm and a final.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY AND HONESTY
Students are expected to be honest in their academic work. The University reserves the right to penalize any student whose academic conduct at any time is, in its judgment, detrimental to the University. Such conduct shall include cases of plagiarism, collusion, cheating, giving or receiving or offering or soliciting information in examinations, or the use of previously prepared material in examinations or quizzes. Violations should be reported to your course instructor, who will investigate and adjudicate them according to the policy on academic honesty of the College of Arts and Sciences. If the charges are found to be true, the student may be liable for academic or disciplinary probation, suspension, or expulsion by the University. Students should review the College of Arts and Sciences policy on Academic Honesty (http://www.slu.edu/x16363.xml).
STUDENTS WITH SPECIAL NEEDS-DISABILITY SERVICES
In recognition that people learn in a variety of ways and that learning is influenced by multiple factors (e.g., prior experience, study skills, learning disability), resources to support student success are available on campus. Students who think they might benefit from these resources can find out more about:

- Course-level support (e.g., faculty member, departmental resources, etc.) by asking your course instructor.
- University-level support (e.g., tutoring/writing services, Disability Services) by visiting the Student Success Center (BSC 331) or by going to www.slu.edu/success. Students who believe that, due to a disability, they could benefit from academic accommodations are encouraged to contact Disability Services at 314-977-8885 or visit the Student Success Center. Confidentiality will be observed in all inquiries.

Course instructors support student accommodation requests when an approved letter from Disability Services has been received and when students discuss these accommodations with the instructor after receipt of the approved letter.

COURSE CONTENT DISCLAIMER
In this course, students may be required to read text or view materials that they may consider offensive. The ideas expressed in any given text do not necessarily reflect the views of the instructor, the History Department, the Writing Program, or Saint Louis University. Course materials are selected for their historical and/or cultural relevance, or as an example of stylistic and/or rhetorical strategies and techniques. They are meant to be examined in the context of intellectual inquiry of the sort encountered at the university level.

WRITING CENTER
I encourage you to take advantage of the writing services in the Student Success Center; getting feedback benefits writers at all skill levels. Trained writing consultants can help with any writing, multimedia project, or oral presentation. During the one-on-one consultations, you can work on everything from brainstorming and developing ideas to crafting strong sentences and documenting sources. These services do fill up, so please make an appointment! For more information, or to make, change, or cancel an appointment, call 977-3484 or visit http://www.slu.edu/writingservices.xml.

Additional Academic Honesty requirement: Please keep copies of notes and sources used for your term paper until the date of the final exam. If you cannot show the notes and sources upon request you will automatically receive a grade of zero for the term essay. Any assignment, whether written or verbal, that does not meet the University’s standards of academic honesty will receive a grade of zero and will be liable to other University penalties, including a failing course grade. Please be aware that I consider all communication, even private conversations, to be an important part of your course work, and subject to academic honesty requirements.

Readings and exams: The midterm and final exams will cover readings, lectures, and class discussions. All exams will be in essay form.
Grading:
Class participation / Attendance 250 points
Midterm exam 200 points
Term Paper 300 points
Final exam 250 points
