

John A. Slosar Shared Governance Award

The John A. Slosar Shared Governance Award honors John Slosar's leadership and stalwart commitment to the principles and practice of shared governance. John, a member of the Saint Louis University faculty from 1971-2004 (and more recently faculty emeritus and co-director of the Doerr Center for Social Justice Education and Research in the School of Social Work), chaired the Faculty Senate Planning Committee and was instrumental in the senate's creation. He served as the senate's first president from 1979-1980 and again from 1999-2001; and over the years served as a senator and member of various senate committees. John played important roles in governance in the School of Social Work, in the university at large, and at a national level. John served as AAUP SLU Chapter President five times in addition to other AAUP roles regionally and nationally.

Purpose of the Award

To honor and recognize a faculty member who has provided outstanding contributions to the advancement of shared governance at Saint Louis University
