The Department of American Studies balances rigorous training in the core theories of American Studies and systematic interdisciplinary study of the cultures of the United States with a flexible range of coursework and experiences tailored to individual students’ interests. The department offers programs of study leading to the Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. In accordance with Arts and Sciences graduation requirements, students who pursue either a major or minor in American Studies must earn an overall 2.00 grade point average in all major and minor courses that are approved for completion of their degree program.
